

Catalogue

JUDE

William Anastasi

*The walls are clean now. They have been for quite some time – spotless as a virgin's gown.
How did they get so? Where did the filth disappear to?
I get your drift. But let it lie. That was then, this is now.
Leave me in peace. I'm trying to get on the best I can.*

*Gone is gone, dead is dead. Out of sight, out of mind. Least said, soonest forgotten.
Don't put this in front of me again, I'm only human.*

*There are such a variety of Truths, why single out this one? Only human.
I have put it so squarely and securely behind me. Human.
Please – paint a nice picture, there's a good fellow.*

William Anastasi

William Anastasi

JUDE Work

Produced by Stalke Galleri, 1988

Edition: Small edition

Pages: 4
ISBN: None

Selected page from the catalogue produced in connection with the work JUDE.

